Josh Bersin

I am an industry analyst, researcher, and technology analyst covering all aspects of corporate HR, training, talent management, recruiting, leadership, and workplace technology. I was the founder of Bersin & Associates, which is now part of Deloitte known as Bersin by Deloitte. I am a keynote speaker and advise HR teams and vendors in the HR space, and also serve as an educator, thought leader, and personal coach to HR and business leaders around the world.

My professional goal is to help make work life better: better for individuals, better for organizations, and better for communities and stakeholders. I do this by educating and informing HR and business leaders about world-leading practices that apply to their companies.

I spend my time studying the world of work, HR, and all aspects of workplace technology. I advise vendors and large corporations on their products, HR and leadership strategies, and workplace technology solutions. <https://www.linkedin.com/in/bersin/>
